BETTERING OF THE RAILROAD STATION

ORDERLY APPROACH WILL AT-TRACT VISITORS TO CITY.

Through the Energy and Work of Society of Well-Wishing Citizens the New Jersey Community of Montclair Has Most Planning and Attractive Railway Depot.

It has been well said that "for perfectly obvious reasons it is important that every city, town and village should do all that is possible to insure convenience, orderliness and a certain type of beauty in and about its railway approaches." Much can be accomplished at small expense and with minimum labor when there is intelligent cooperation, says the American City.

The evolution of the railway station from unsightliness to a thing of beauty is almost the work of the present generation. In the early days this indispensable adjunct was constructed simply for use, with never a thought of making it attractive. The railway station was simply a place to get on and off the trains scheduled to stop at that point. For years the depot of one of the greatest lines in this country, at a state capital, was always referred to as "the cow shed." It was a rickety building, which had been added to by piecemeal as necessity arose, unpainted, with rough floor, leaky roof and without a claim to cleanliness.

The spirit of improvement, however, was broadening and spreading over the land. Here and there the agent at a way station, or more probably his wife, added a rosebush or wisp of vegetation with patient irrigation transformed the plot of scrubby, withered grass into a velvety green.

The modern railway station not only serves its original purpose, but, if properly kept, makes a good first impression on the outsider. As a central point the stranger considers it an index of the ideals of the people, a type to which the whole appearance of the place should conform. And how reveling it is for the tired business man or wearied shopper, coming from the blistering, dust-choking city, to catch a grateful breath of coolness under the overarching shade and feel that this is home in the truest sense of the word.

That such results are within the reach of every community has been strikingly shown at Upper Montclair, N. J. In the expression of the civic spirit of this town, officially the First ward of Montclair, one of the most effective agencies is the Mountain society. Dependent wholly upon the voluntary support of the citizens themselves, which support has always been generously given, it has added with energy, judgment and unselfish purpose.

The Mountain society was quick to see that the only means of reaching the highest attainment in beautifying the approach to the town was by cordial co-operation with the railway company, upon which the growth of the community largely depends. The corporation promptly met the society halfway, and together the two strove, with the result that this part of the town is today a pleasure to the eye.

A charming booklet, written by a citizen of Montclair, not an officer of the Mountain society, gives expression to this spirit and contains a number of views of the railway station and its surroundings.

Just over the bank of the brook on the east side a screen of vines hides an insight spot otherwise uncontrollable. The vines, from the growth of early spring to the scarlet of autumn, form an effective shield, and the poplar trees recently planted will supplement and augment it. On the avenue north of the grounds a tunnel of green is formed by the drooping limbs that reach to the waters of the brook flowing here from under the bridge across the avenue, winding between iris grown banks through the upper end of the grounds, thence under the railroad embankment and reappearing in the eastern side.

The grounds back of the station here for many years been cared for by the Mountain society, the railroad lending aid in grading and furnishing soil and labor. At one time, years ago, this parklike space almost came into the possession of the society for public park use.

DAMAGES AWARDED

Jury Gives Live Stock Concern Damages In Sheep Scab Case.

In accordance with the provisions of a sealed verdict opened in Judge Harris's division of the district court at Ogden last Thursday, judgment in the sum of $5450 was entered for the plaintiff in the case of the Lindsay Land and Live Stock company against Thomas Smart and the Smart Land and Live Stock company of Logan.

The Lindsay company brought the suit to recover seven thousand dollars for the alleged damages resulting from the infection of five thousand and sheep with scab. During the six days the case was on trial many persons versed in the sheep business and the diseases of sheep were summoned as witnesses.

It was proved to the satisfaction of the jury that a herd of sheep belonging to the Logan company were afflicted with scab when taken to the ranges of the Lindsay company.

URGING FARMERS TO RAISE CANTALOUPE

Philip C. Isbell, representative of the George Middendorf company of Chicago, was at Green River last Saturday, Sunday and Monday in an effort to induce the farmers there to grow cantaloupes. There will be a preliminary meeting February 22d for the purpose of having the growers organize. He states that he expects the industry of cantaloupes growing to expand rapidly and that he will ship several carloads of the fruit to Eastern markets this season.

SPRING CANYON MINES WILL PRODUCE SOON

By the middle of February the management of the Spring Canyon Coal company, with mines above Holper, expects to have its coal upon the markets of the West. This is the enterprise brought into being by the Jesse Knight interests of Provo, and a wide market for the coal is being prepared by Lewis M.
Cannon, general sales agent for the company, at Salt Lake City. The company has equipped the mine for a daily coal production of two thousand tons.

BOY GIVES SKIN

Victim of Explosion Will Probably Live As Result of Sacrifice.

RICHFIELD, Jan. 31.—As a result of the heroic sacrifice of a hundred and forty-four square inches of his skin by Dow Clark, the only son of S. G. Clark, to cover the terrible burns received by Nancy Bird in a recent coal oil explosion, the girl will probably live. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bird. Her little brother, who was fatally burned in the same explosion, died.

When physicians attending the girl announced that skin grafting would be necessary to save her life, many offers were quickly made, Dow Clark being one of the first to volunteer to undergo the painful ordeal. He was finally selected and the operation performed. The doctors today say that they have hoped that the operation will be a success and that the girl will recover.

Although suffering considerable pain from the loss of so much skin, young Clark is in no immediate danger.

Sanpete Citizens Protest Against Clerical Error in Report.

Citizens of Sanpete county are protesting against that part of the annual report of the juvenile court which says that twenty-one girls in that county were arrested for cigarette smoking. It appears that the report sent to the governor showed twenty-one boys arrested for this habit, and in the compilation of the figures the twenty-one was accidentally transferred to the "girls" column. The citizens have been assured, however, that the record is all right in the official documents of the state.
